NO LIQUOR THERE.

May be Sold at Point Pleasant but not Legally.

Supposed Counterfeiters not in it so Bad as Their Accuser.

Several newspapers have this week published an article entitled "Not Counterfeit," in which they say one "Sample" had a license to sell whiskey at Point Pleasant but not at Coffman.

These little towns are both on Green river, in the prohibition county of Ohio, and it seems quite singular that any one should have authority to legally sell liquor in one without having the same authority to sell in the other. Neither has any form of organized city government and can not suspend the State prohibition laws. At all events there is no legal authority for selling liquor at Point Pleasant and none of the records of the county show such. The article further says:

Alex Sample, of Coffman, Ohio county, is under recognizance to appear at the May term of Federal Court in Owensboro to answer the charge of selling whiskey without paying the special Government tax. And it all came about because Henry Whittaker and Tilton Littlefield paid for some of the whiskey with what Sample thought was a counterfeit bill. Sample went to Deputy Sheriff Hubert Coffman and had him arrest Whittaker and Littlefield. Saturday they were taken to Owensboro, having been guarded at Livermore through the preceding night.

No warrant had been procured, and while the marshal was preparing to take out one, Deputy Sheriff Coffman showed the bill which the boys had passed, to Commissioner Lindsey. Evidently the boys did not make it, although the first news of the arrest from Livermore indicated that they did. The bill was yellow with age, although it did not have the appearance of having circulated very freely during its existence. Upon closer examination it proved to be a ten dollar bill, issued in 1863, by the Confederate States of America. And Mr. Lindsey thought that the boys had committed no offense for which an action would lie in a United States court. Mr. Sample had just been fooled. He may probably secure the boys' conviction in the State courts for obtaining property under false pretenses. Whittaker and Littlefield were set at liberty.

Sample's troubles did not end with his failure to have his men held over to the grand jury. Immediately after they were dismissed they proceeded to swear out a warrant against Sample for selling whiskey without the special Government tax.

Beckham Don't Know.

Gov. Beckham stated before the House Bribery Investigating Committee that he knew nothing of the alleged charges of bribery against legislators as published in a Louisville paper. He gave names of persons who had told him of reports circulated about bribery charges in the last Legislature. This will result in the remainder of the present session being devoted mainly to these investigations.

CIRCUIT COURT.

May be the Most Interesting Held in Ohio County for Years.

The Case of the Commonwealth Against J. W. Boatner May be Tried.

Next Monday the Ohio Circuit Court will convene for a three weeks' term. This promises to be one of the most interesting terms of Circuit Court held here for some time.

There are six murder cases, eleven other felony cases and seventy-three misdemeanor cases, such as selling liquor, carrying concealed deadly weapons, etc., on the docket.

There is also a full civil docket, there being one hundred and nine ordinary actions and one hundred and fifty-four equity actions on the civil docket.

The famous Schleitzbaum-Boatner embezzlement suit stands at the head of the second day's criminal docket, and if a trial of that case is had, very interesting evidence is promised to be developed, as Boatner, who has never gone on the witness stand, will, in all probability, testify.

Heck Became Penitent.

Rockport, Ky., March 2.—His voice broken with sobs, tears streaming down his face and his body shaking with emotion, John Heck, who is accused of forgery, arose at the Baptist church Saturday during the regular church meeting and said that he would leave it to the Lord and the church as to what should be done in the matter of turning him out of the church. Concluding his talk he said that he felt like he was the worst criminal in the State. Heck is an ordained deacon in the Baptist church and the matter was continued until meeting next month.

DEANE HAS BEEN TO MEXICO.

Letters From Him Received by His Wife and Uncle.

Went to Mexico on Business, Stopped at Waco to See Triplett.

Suffering From Recent Illness and Shock at Reports of His Disappearance.

Owensboro, Ky., March 3.—Letters from Guy M. Deane, dated Waco, Texas, to his wife and to James H. Parrish were received yesterday.

James H. Parrish, from the residence of Guy M. Deane, at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night furnished the following written statement signed by Mrs. Deane and himself:

March 2, 1904.

Letters received tonight from Guy M. Deane, by James H. Parrish and Mrs. Sue G. Deane, his wife, state that he went to Mexico on business and on his return he stopped at Waco, Texas, to see his uncle, R. S. Triplett. When he saw the papers he wrote these letters.

When he reached Waco he was suffering from recent illness and shock occasioned by the news of the notoriety his absence had caused.

Mr. Deane went to the home of Mr. Triplett who knowing the letter had not reached Owensboro, sent the telegram to Mr. James H. Parrish, which was the first news received concerning Mr. Deane.

The public is, therefore, still left in the dark and must draw its conclusions.

It is known that before going to Jackson, Miss., Mr. Deane drew $150 from the bank, and as he traveled on a railroad pass and was to be absent, according to his own statement, only two days, he must have had the trip to Mexico, to some extent, in mind then.

At Jackson he borrowed $100 more, evidently to be sure he would have sufficient funds for his journey. If he only had said he would be absent ten days on business, all this humiliating publicity and search for him by friends and detectives in a dozen cities would have been spared.

ANOTHER BAD WRECK.

Illinois Central Fast Passenger Train Smashed up.

Engineer Killed and Conductor and Brakeman Hurt.

Louisville, March 2.—North-bound passenger train No. 104, on the Illinois Central, due to arrive in Louisville at 7:50 a. m., was wrecked in the yards at Princeton at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. Engineer George Tagg, of Louisville, was killed and Conductor Henry McKinney and Brakeman John T. Jones, both of Louisville, were seriously (and the former it is believed fatally) hurt.

The wreck was caused by the collision of the fast passenger train with a cut of coal cars that had backed from a siding to the main track. The crash came in the darkness, and Engineer Tagg had no time to save himself. The engine leaped into the air and fell forty feet to the bed of the creek below. The body of Mr. Tagg was found under the engine.

Conductor McKinney was thrown through a window in one of the coaches and is badly cut. Fireman Jones escaped with a broken leg and a number of serious bruises.

None of the passenger cars left the track, but several of the coal cars were demolished. The passengers suffered no serious injuries.

O. O. Williams, Centertown, was in town yesterday.

The Grip Leaves Thousands in its Path Weak, Nervous, Dyspeptic, Catarrh Wrecks.

LIKE A DEMON grip has crossed our country, leaving behind scores of physical wrecks.

Victims of catarrh of the head, catarrh of the throat, catarrh of the lungs, catarrh of the stomach, catarrh of the kidneys, catarrh of the pelvic organs, are to be counted by hundreds of thousands. Grip is epidemic catarrh, and sows the seed of chronic catarrh within the system.

This is so true that few grip sufferers are able to make a complete recovery until they have used Peruna.

Never in the history of medicine has a remedy received such unqualified and universal eulogies as Peruna.

A New York Alderman's Experience. Hon. Joseph A. Flinn, alderman Fifth District, writes from 104 Christopher street, New York City, as follows:

"When a pestilence overtakes our people we take precaution as a nation to preserve the citizens against the dread disease.

"La grippe has entered thousands of our homes this fall, and I noticed that the people who used Peruna were quickly restored, while those who depended on doctor's prescriptions, spent weeks in recovering, leaving them weak and emaciated.

"I had a slight attack of la grippe and at once took Peruna, which drove the disease out of my system in a few days and did not hinder me from pursuing my daily work.

"I should like to see our Board of Health give it official recognition and have it used generally among our poor sick people in Greater New York."—Joseph A. Flinn.

D. L. Wallace, a charter member of the International Barber's Union, writes from 15 Western avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.:

"Following a severe attack of la grippe I seemed to be affected badly all over. I suffered with a severe backache, indigestion and numerous ills, so I could neither eat nor sleep, and I thought I would give up my work, which I could not afford to do.

"One of my customers who was greatly helped by Peruna advised me to try it, and I procured a bottle the same day. I used it faithfully and felt a marked improvement. During the next two months I took five bottles, and then felt splendid. Now my head is clear, my nerves steady, I enjoy food, and rest well. Peruna has been worth a dollar a dose to me."—D. L. Wallace.

Mr. O. H. Perry, Atchison, Kansas, writes:

"Again, after repeated trials of your medicines, Peruna and Manalin, I give this as my expression of the wonderful results of your very valuable medicine in its effects in my case after repeated trials.

"First, it cured me of chronic bronchitis of fifteen years' standing by using two bottles of Peruna in January, 1894, and no return of it.

"After I was cured of bronchitis I had la grippe every winter for several winters. But, through the use of Peruna, it got gradually weaker in its severity, until it dwindled down to a mere stupor for two or three days. Now the stupor does not trouble me any more."—O. H. Perry.

A Congressman's Experience. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio. Gentlemen—"I am more than satisfied with Peruna, and find it to be an excellent remedy for the grip and catarrh. I have used it in my family and they all join me in recommending it as an excellent remedy."

Very respectfully, George H. White.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.
